The Weather from John Harrison

Relatively warm weather continued into autumn with daytime temperatures hovering around two degrees above the long-term average, while night-time temperatures fell only occasionally when clouds cleared and there were no early frosts. The lowest temperature was 4.0°C early on the 24th. For much of the month the weather was dominated by an extensive ridge of high pressure which brought a mixture of dull conditions, sunny spells, occasional light rain and blustery westerly breezes. The spell of cyclonic conditions at the end of August continued into September bringing occasional rain and one noteworthy wet day on the 2nd. (17.1 mm) followed by almost all the September rainfall by the 10th. Water courses continued to run low as the summer drought continued. At this time of year we expect two additions to the weather menu - the first signs of frost, and the arrival of autumnal wind and rain, but 2026 has been a year of what not to expect with record high temperatures and low rainfall. The weather has been head-line news with the key question being whether we should be thinking about long-term climate change. While temperatures during late autumn have continued to be higher than the long-term average and September and October have been devoid of air frosts, we have begun to see signs of a return to normality with fruit trees laden, and strong winds and heavy rain during October.

Local Archive – A snapshot of Haydon Bridge Coop in the First World War

On the 11 November 1919 the first Armistice event took place, at Buckingham Palace, to commemorate the end of the First World War in 1918. Daily life in Haydon Bridge in 1919 was still affected by the War. Food rationing had been introduced nationally early in 1918 and was still in place. Soldiers were returning home throughout the year. On March 4th, 1919 the Haydon Parish Welcome Home Welfare Association held a celebration at the Town Hall for 100 soldiers who were now back home and a Peace celebration took place in the village in July after the formal signing of the peace treaty, although some families were only just receiving news that their sons, husbands and fathers had died.

In the Haydon Parish Archive at The Bridge: Library and Community Hub there is a small collection of records from the Coop shop on Shaftoe Street during the First World War. Alongside the formal records of the Coop, such as the committee minutes, these give us a deeper insight into the daily life of the staff and their customers. Shopping lists, catalogues and price lists show what people were buying. Correspondence from the Coop's suppliers shows what was going up in price, what was in short supply or just unavailable. The paperwork for the rationing system shows how bureaucratic it was. This is material that often doesn't survive in the historic record but gives us fascinating glimpses of ordinary life during the extraordinary years of the First World War.

A small display of this material combined with historic photos, other archival records and historical research will be on show at the Bridge on Church Street from the 9th to 30th November. See p2 for opening hours.

News from Haydon Bridge High School – from Tom Priddle Head of School

A highlight of the half-term was our Showcase Evening, when we welcomed almost 200 parents, carers and family members into school. The evening offered a different approach to our traditional tutor evening, giving families meeting with tutors, looking through their children's books and celebrating their work since the start of the academic year. Visitors were treated to a performance by the wonderful Sunshine Panners, sampled food prepared by our Year 12 Catering students, explored the school's Hair and Beauty Salon and viewed our impressive Greenpower racing cars. Families also found out more about our extracurricular programme, signed up for clubs and discovered some exciting trips and opportunities available to students.

There was a wonderful atmosphere throughout the school, and a real sense of pride in the work being produced by our students. We are fortunate and thankful to be part of such a wonderful community, and we look forward to sharing more of our news and achievements with you over the coming months.

Northumbria Primary Care - Haydon Bridge and Allendale

Statement from Anya Tully, Practice Manager

Our Practice as a Training Clinic: What It Means for You

We are proud that we have been an accredited training practice since 2008. This means we regularly welcome medical students and GP registrars (fully qualified Drs training to be GPs) to our team. Hosting these future healthcare professionals helps keep our entire practice aligned with the latest clinical guidelines and medical advancements. It also provides valuable income that is all re-invested in providing high quality care.

The Benefits for Patients

Having extra doctors on hand directly benefits our community by providing:

- Greater Availability: More doctors in the clinic means we can offer increased appointment choices and improved access to care.
- More Time: Training consultations are often longer, giving you additional time to discuss your health concerns in detail.
- Thorough Care: Our senior team works closely with our trainees, ensuring your care is collaborative and thoroughly reviewed.

Addressing Continuity of Care

We know that seeing different doctors can sometimes make it harder to build a long-term relationship with one specific clinician. Because registrars rotate to new practices every 6, months as part of their training, continuity of care can be a challenge.
To balance this, our permanent GPs supervise all training closely to ensure a smooth handoff. If you are managing a complex or ongoing condition, we would suggest you request to schedule your follow-ups with your regular GP to maintain consistency.

Your Choice Matters

Please note that while GP registrars are fully qualified doctors, medical students are still in training. If a medical student is shadowing your doctor or participating in your consultation, we will always ask for your permission first. You are entirely free to opt out of having a student present or seeing a student, and your decision will never affect the care you receive.

Thank you for your continued support in helping us train the next generation of general practitioners!

Collaborative Action towards Climate Change Resilience

Thank you to The Development Trust, Haltwhistle Film Project and The General Havelock for hosting the People's Emergency Briefing film on Tuesday 15th September, showing experts presenting facts and solutions to crises related to climate change, including; Nature, Climate, Tipping Points, Weather Extremes, Food Security, Health, National Security, Economics and Energy Transition.

Whilst the Development Trust is keen to find practicable activities for Haydon Bridge, the main aim of the film is to encourage the government to deliver a prime-time, multi-channel televised national briefing to cut through misinformation. Sign the petition here. https://petition.parliament.uk/petitions/767687#main-content. If you have suggestions, knowledge or energy for developing climate resilience in our parish, please contact admin@haydon-bridge.co.uk

Whatever you are motivated by, there is more information on the National Emergency Briefing here. https://www.nebriefing.org/

The next screening of the film will be at the Forum Cinema on Tuesday 24th November at 17:30. The event is pay as you feel but please book a seat. https://forumhexham.com/ForumHexham.dll/WhatsOn?f=25762614
